

TEAM HERCULES sponsorship packet

2023 - 2024

what we're doing

Hello!

We are Team Hercules, and we are competing in NASA's Human Exploration Rover Challenge (HERC), a competition in which teams design and build a rover for two pilots while also holding STEM events in their community.

There are 72 international teams who are competing in this challenge and we are pleased to share that Team Hercules is the only team representing New Jersey!

In April, we will travel to Alabama to present our work to NASA.
